ALBERT C. GETMAN

Because he has positively affected the Lower School curriculum, because he has demanded a high level of attainment with consistent good humor, because his leadership in the Lower School has assisted the growth of the entire school, and, more important, because he has been a friend to everyone, we dedicate the 1961 Weather Vane to Mr. Albert C. MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1961

Liberal education is based on the premise that our most pressing need is to promote a deeper understanding of the world, to produce wiser and more mature human beings. It is important to know something about culture, to search for truth, to work hard and to enrich the mind. Robert Louis Stevenson has written, ". . . It is only by some bold poetry of thought that men can be strung up above the level of every day conceptions to take a broader look upon experience or accept some higher principle of conduct."

Remember the great privilege that is yours. Take full advantage of the opportunity to become knowledgeable persons. Become and maintain and develop quality at every point of your lives.

LION

by Judy Trumbull

The sound came from far off, yet all around. Never ceasing, never hesitating it hung in the air, a part of the heat that seared the earth. It rose and fell, only to grow loud again.

Lithe, lean, tawny, the young lion paced through the gloom of gathering darkness. He was in search of meat to satisfy his piercing hunger. Day had turned into night suddenly, as if a curtain had been dropped over the sun. With the night came the time to hunt.

He was not afraid to hunt alone. He was no longer a cub with the sniveling ways of cubhood. Full grown, with the sleek mane that flowed down from his head and shoulders, only his smooth hide unmarred by the scars of battle, branded him a young lion, just coming into his full powers. But the constant throbbing of the drums confused and troubled him.

Silent as a shadow, he trotted into a clump of gnarled trees and across a dry bed which had once been a bubbling stream.

The lion growled lowly in distress. Many times he had hunted at this very stream and always the sweet-flavored game had flocked to the stream to drink. The game had vanished now, and the stream was dry and cracked. Even though the sun was down, the burning heat remained.

Worse yet, his belly was painfully empty.

Long ago, he had fed at will on the succulent zebra, okapi, and gazelle. He had gorged himself nightly on the rich red meat, so plentiful that he left much of his kill for the scavenging hyenas. He had grown fat and lazy.

Now the sun god ruled over the veldt. The fruitless trees lost their foliage, withered and died. The waterholes had dried, one by one. Everywhere lay the white bones of animals that had fallen from hunger and thirst. During the day, the vultures wheeled and circled high in the sky. Still the malignant sun god reigned.

Boom . . . boom . . . boom . . . The drums throbbed through the night.

If food would not come to him, then he must go find it.

Borne through the moon-silvered night were the frequent roars of the other lions. First the call from one direction, then another. The lion detected a new note in these cries, a strange, desperate note that sent excitement racing through his veins. He did not understand the meaning of it. But he knew that tonight was different. Something was changed. Something was going to happen.

For a moment he hesitated, and then he struck out in the direction of the sound. He slunk through the dry grass and reached a clump of dead trees.

There before him were the dark shapes of perhaps a dozen lions. Some lay quietly, waiting. Others paced back and forth with nervous, jerky steps, heads low, tufted tails switching.

Boom . . . boom . . . boom . . . rising and falling. The night air was charged.

The lion's heart thumped against his ribs. He was a member of a pack, accepted by his elders. In spite of a vague apprehension he felt a thrill of pleasure.

The sky was red when the pack reached its destination. Instinctively the lion wanted to run from the licking flames, but he was held captive by the will to prove himself. Even more compelling was the smell.

Following the leader, the pack leaped the barrier and discovered the head of cows belonging to the native tribe. Suddenly, the sky rained fiery weapons. Many warriors appeared carrying flaming brands which they flung at the encircling lions. Arcs of fire cut the air near the young lion, and he retreated a few steps before the onslaught.

One warrior carelessly dropped flaming embers near the wall. In a moment it was an angry sheet of flame. The warriors could do nothing to put out the blaze, and their wall disintegrated before their eyes.

As one, the cattle bolted toward the hole that was left. In their panic, they escaped to disaster.

To the warriors, the cows meant life, and they hastened to drive back the lions to save the cattle. Spears fell like hail around him, he saw his fellows fall, but the young lion brought down a heifer. Driven to a frenzy by the smell of blood, he wanted to devour his kill on the spot. But some inner voice told him that he must drag it to the safety of the tree.

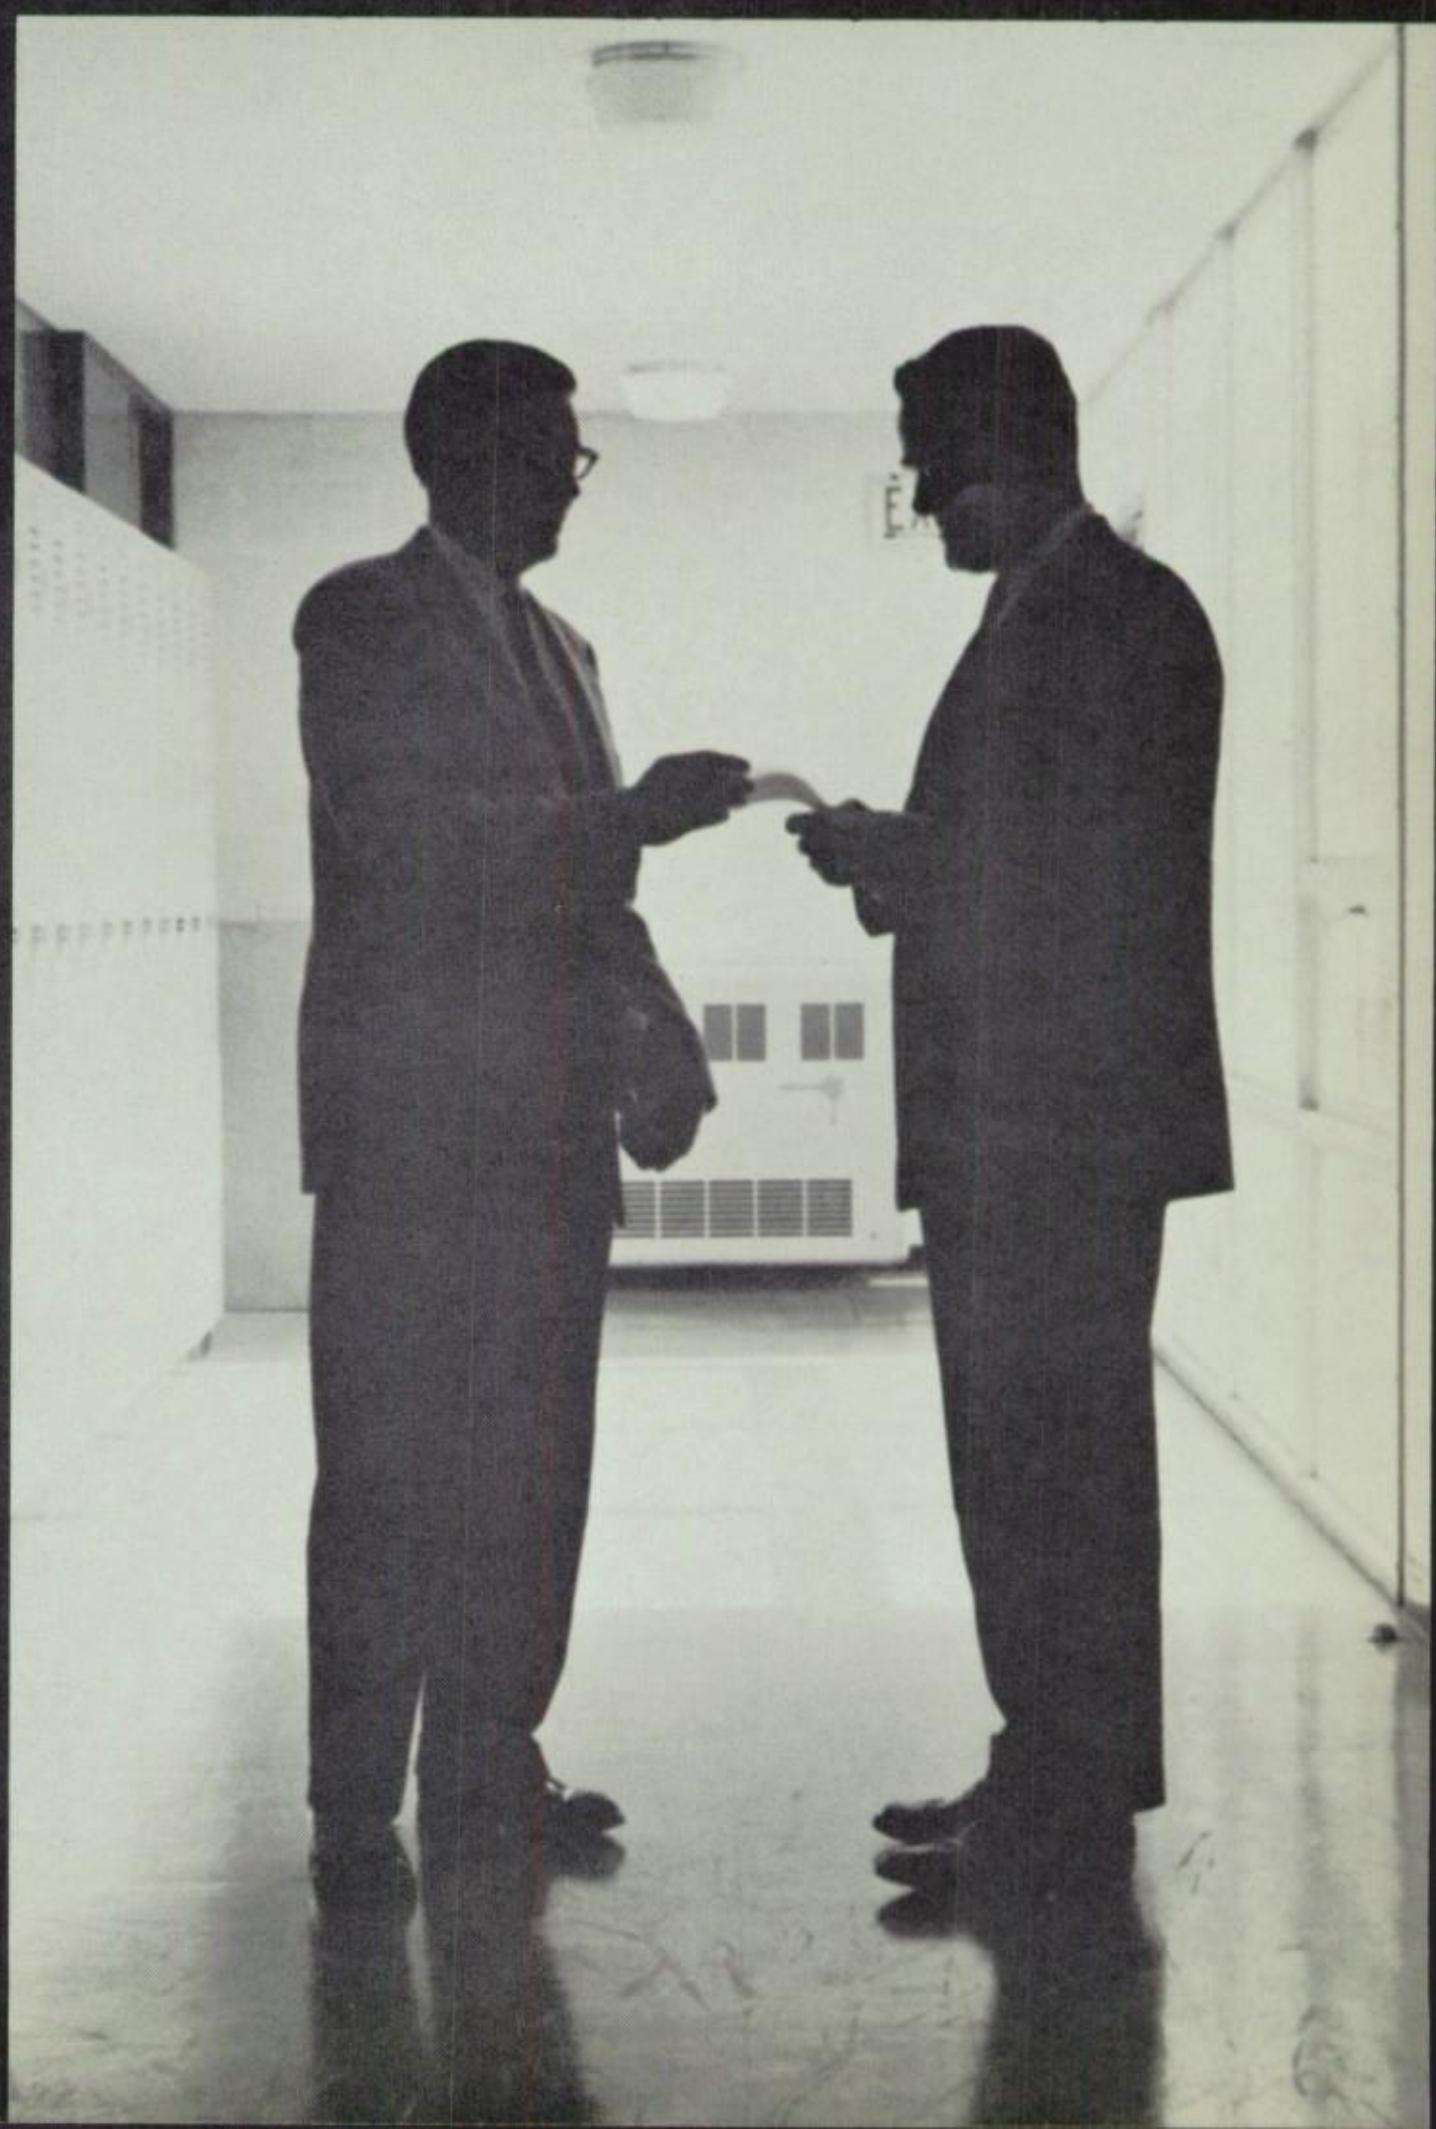

It was hard work, but he gained slow headway. He pulled the inert heifer across the dry grass, glowing with pride at his new found strength.

At last he reached the hidden hollow. The sounds were distant now. So great was his hunger that his legs felt weak. Greedily he began to devour the still warm flesh of the young cow. As he ate, new strength flooded through him.

Only when he finished did he realize that he was alone. The world was big and frightening, and he was utterly alone.

He turned to face a cool, rain-promising breeze, and trotted slowly across the veldt.

French Club

The French Club at Maumee Valley offers students the chance to widen their understanding of French history and culture, as well as speaking and reading French. At one of their monthly meetings Mrs. Hatfield spoke on French art. They also held their annual Christmas party at which a French play was done and carols were sung. The most spectacular of any of their activities is the French dinner. In this April meeting, everyone helped, both in eating and preparing the French food.

Electronics Club

The Electronics Club, organized for the first time at MV, has received active support from a good many high school boys. They have made plans for building a radio station, and so far all is turning out well. The major task has been preparing the members to take the tests required for owning official ham licenses.

Pep Club

The Pep Club has done a fine job supplementing the efforts of the cheerleaders for high team spirit. Tri-Captains Larry Haid, Jim Birr, and Tom Handwork

The Maumee Valley varsity football team fought its way to an envious record of six wins and two losses, but during the season had its twenty game winning streak snapped. Although the Mohawks dropped a game to Park School and the league championship to Lakota, the team knocked off its other six opponents.

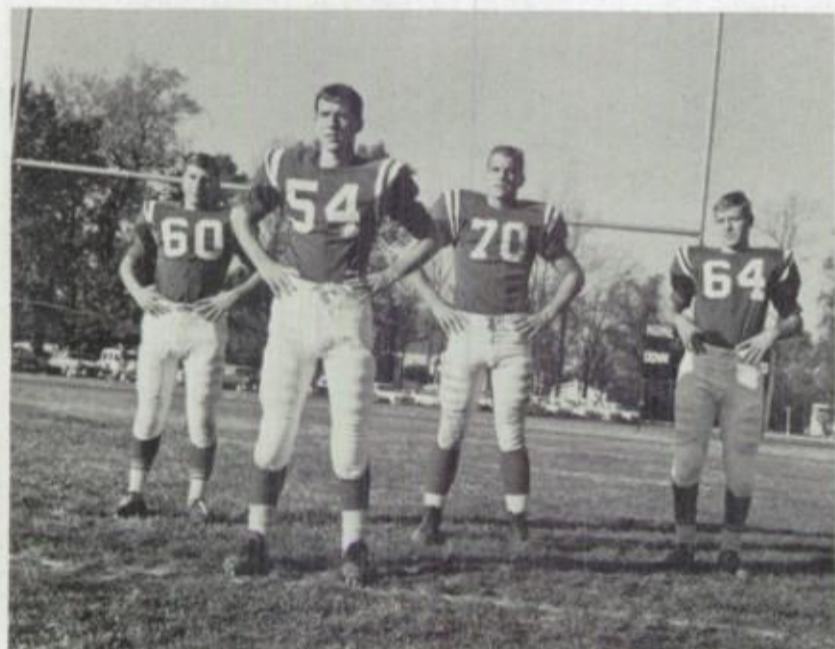

Highlights of the season included a 40-18 trouncing of Otsego and a 36-8 romp over Green Springs. The Reynolds Road school also took victories over its two out-of-town rivals, Detroit Country Day School and Grosse Pointe University School.

The success of the season was due to two major factors. Certainly great tribute has to be paid to Coach Lester Grace and his assistant Mr. Thomas Read. The other factor was the leadership of the tri-captains Tom Handwork, Jim Birr, and Larry Haid, who never failed to show a contagious spirit which bolstered the team's morale and were in on crucial plays. Seniors Chip Chapman, Bill Belt, Don Lyon, and John Meyer also proved to be indispensable.

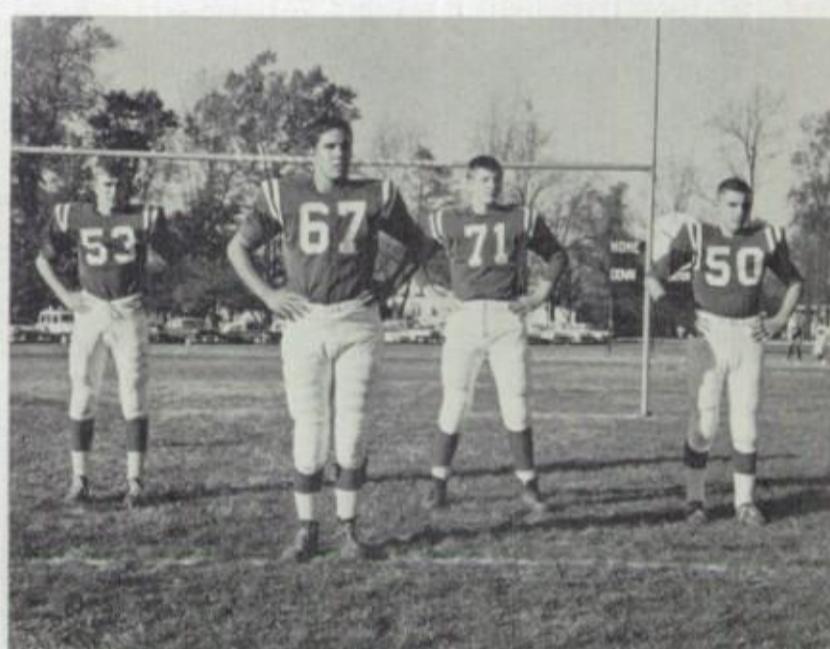

Outstanding players of the 1960 season were honored by the San-Wood League. Those receiving All-League awards for Maumee Valley were a crashing fullback Jim Birr, a tough little guard Ted Justen, and an outstanding defensive linebacker Larry Haid. Players who earned honorable mention were John Schwab, Nels Johnson, Chip Chapman, and Nick Browne.

The Team

The Maumee Valley varsity basketball team compiled a seven won, ten lost record for the 1960-61 season. The team, during the first half of the campaign was led by Jim and Steve Birr. The Mohawks knocked off its private school rivals, Detroit Country Day School, Grosse Pointe University School, and Park of Indianapolis. Between the two brothers, the Birrs averaged thirty-six points per game. Consequently, when the Birrs moved to Florida, the team lost much of its offensive punch.

Nevertheless, the Mohawks continued their aggressive type of play. Paul Paryski took up some of the offensive slack and Tom Handwork and Larry Haid spearheaded the defense. Shooting from the corner, Bill Belt kept the defense loose, giving Chip Condon a chance for his hook.

One of the most exciting victories of the year was the one over traditional rival Park School. The Mohawks jumped to a 25-12 lead on the Birrs' shooting, only to see it dwindle to a 46-46 tie with seven seconds remaining. As the buzzer rang, tall Paul Paryski amazed the roaring crowd with a thirty-five foot jump shot, giving the Mohawks the victory.

The M. V. Invitational Tournament

For the seventh consecutive year, Maumee Valley held its annual invitational tournament. Again, as last year, the M. V. squad had beaten all the teams which were invited, but, because of the loss of the Birrs, the Mohawks entered as an underdog. In the first game played on February 24, Park School handily disposed of G. P. U. S. 67-48. In the second game of the evening, the Mohawks battled past D. C. D. S. with Larry Haid and Paul Paryski each collecting thirteen points.

The next afternoon, Grosse Pointe defeated Detroit Country Day School in the consolation game, and in the championship game, favored Park School met underdog M. V. Although the Mohawks fought to the finish, the fast-breaking Panthers thoroughly trounced the smaller M. V. squad by a 68-31 score.

Tom Waymire was voted Most Valuable Player, and Maumee Valley's Paul Paryski joined him on the All-Tournament Team. The final standings showed that Park had taken the championship, Maumee Valley had copped the runner-up position, and G. P. U. S. had won the consolation trophy.

Reserve Basketball

The Maumee Valley basketball team, although the season was not successful, progressed greatly. Spearheaded by the offensive play of Tom Tuschman and Ash Fox, the reserves played "heads-up" basketball. Jim Saalfeld and Scott Sutherland headed the defensive action and were always on top of loose balls.

The freshman basketball team, hampered by lack of size and experience, managed only one victory in six starts. The single victory was eked out over the Springfield freshmen by a 17-16 score. Outstanding performers were Dick "the Crane" Browne, D'Arcy Didier, Ned Taylor, and Craig Wolfe. The knowledge which the frosh learned this year should leave them in good stead on the reserve team next year.

Junior High Basketball

The Junior High basketball team completed a successful season with a 6-4 record. Not only did the team have a winning season, but the cagers, coached by Mr. Albert Getman, gained a knowledge of many of basketball's skills. Highlights of the season included a 34-18 run-away from Holland and a 33-12 rout of Pioneer. Standouts on the team were Gary Robinson, Jim and Mike Bradshaw, Jim Miller and Jim Fellabaum.

Varsity Track Team

The 1960 Varsity Track Team complied an envious record of five wins, one second place in a quadrangular meet, and a single loss during Maumee Valley's third year of track competition.

The team, coached by Mr. Samuel McCoy, boasted only five seniors and was predominantly composed of sophomores and juniors. During the course of the season a total of seven records was eclipsed. Senior standout Dave Roderick personally accounted for four records, and beaten only once in twenty-six events, while compiling 125 seasonal points.

Sophomore Nick Browne was beaten only once in the hundred yard dash, and sprinted to an undefeated record in the two-hundred-twenty yard dash. Chip Chapman and Scott Sutherland always represented a threat in the distance races and now hold the school records in the mile and half mile runs.

In the weight events big Dave Stihler copped the season's title, and the half-mile relay team composed of Nick Browne, John Schwab, Tam Bracken, and captain Steve Schwab shattered the existing school record.

Varsity Baseball Team

The Maumee Valley varsity baseball team suffered an unsuccessful season during 1960. The Mohawks managed to win only two games, both over Risingsun. Yet, despite the poor record, the diamond-men coached by Mr. Philip Seker learned the fundamentals of the game and showed great progress.

Individuals who excelled during the season were Tom Little with his hitting, Jim Kile with his pitching, and Ash Fox and John Foresman with their superior fielding. Captain Ray Foresman never failed to help the team with his advice and boosted its morale at every opportunity.

Because most of the letter-winners will return for the 1961 season, the prospects look very bright. With the addition of a pitching machine and a new diamond, the baseballers are hoping for a good season during the coming year.

Varsity Tennis Team

Maumee Valley's boys tennis team suffered five straight setbacks and yet managed to find the basic fundamentals of an athletic program—fun for the participants. Hampered by lack of courts and by the inexperience of the players, the team, coached by Mr. Thomas Read, lost to powerhouses including St. Francis, Maumee, and Grosse Pointe University School.

The prospects for the coming season are bright, as last year's team was composed of only one senior, two juniors, and three sophomores. Outstanding performers included Captain Dave Williams, Paul Paryski, and Nels Johnson.

Blue-White Games

Ever since the tradition of the candlestick was set up in 1934, there has been a constant battle for the possession of the candle.

In hockey, the white team seemed to improve throughout the year. The first game was a hard-fought tie, 1-1. Then the whites won the second two games 1-0 and 3-0 to win the hockey season.

During the volleyball season, the whites again proved superior by winning two of the three games. These games, however, were very close.

Leading the teams this year were Bobbie Bowers, captain, and Dinny Stranahan, co-captain of the Blues, and Tracy Taylor, captain, and Mary Stranahan, co-captain of the Whites.

for use in school

ARE YOU SATISFIED?

Grownups know that personal grooming is important if you want to "get ahead". Teenagers sometimes forget to look at themselves objectively.

So that boys and girls could see themselves as others see them, a full-length mirror was installed in the main corridor of a high school in Buffalo, N. Y.

Boys checked shirttails and trouser lengths—even started wearing coats and ties. Girls stopped to tuck in blouses or rearrange their hair. Renewed pride came to this school—all because of a mirror!

When you buy a mirror, be sure it's made of L·O·F Parallel-O-Plate® glass, twin-ground for truer reflections and more freedom from distortion. You'll find a wide selection at your furniture, glass or department store.

A mirror is a "must" at school . . . at home . . . anywhere. Always check your appearance before going out. It's a good habit to form and others will notice.

grit-o'cobs

GRADES FROM 8 MESH TO FLOUR

GRIT-O-COBS are produced by a milling process that eliminates the lighter components of the cobs leaving a grit derived from the tough "woody" ring only.

Cob grit is much harder, more abrasive and absorbent than comparable wood products. It is free of dust, metallic or other foreign inclusion and it is practically pure cellulose. Metal industries use it extensively for polishing, cleaning, deburring, drying and degreasing metal parts since it is an ideal medium for tumbling and so-called "soft grit blasting". Its absorbent character also makes it suitable for other uses.

Write us for a free sample of sufficient quantity for testing or experimental purposes.

Our 400 tons per week capacity assures year-around supply. We fill orders up to 100 tons within 3 days. Direct connections through 13 railroads and 122 motor freight lines guarantee fast delivery anywhere. Location on Lake Erie permits direct shipment by water to Canadian and overseas port cities.

THE SPORT OF SOARING . . .

Sky-sailing—soaring—motorless flight—whatever you call it, it's the supreme sport of the air. Put yourself in the cockpit of a modern sailplane and enjoy the rewarding experience and thrill of flying silently and effortlessly among the clouds. Here is man's closest approach to flying like the birds.

Soaring activity is not new. This stimulating sport has been going on internationally and in some areas of the USA for the last 25 years. Today, soaring is growing even more popular with the rapid increase in club participation, flying facilities and more economical ships. Group fellowship and friendly club competition provide fascinating activity for all.

SEND IN YOUR QUESTIONS . . .

The Toledo Glider Club welcomes your questions about how to get started in soaring, and your inquiries will receive prompt attention. Demonstration flights are available at Adrian, Mich. Write for information.

SNAP COURSE IN ECONOMICS

No textbooks. No classes. Just plain economic facts. Practically everything you buy costs more than it used to. Everything except electricity. In fact, a dime buys about twice as much electricity as it did a generation ago. You really get your money's worth when you spend it for electricity.

Moss Lake Camp For Girls

Located in the heart of New York State's Adirondack Mountains on the shores of its own beautiful and private lake has for many years welcomed girls six to eighteen from Maumee Valley.

It is called the "Camp of Specialists". Our basic conviction is the trite one that whatever is worth doing is worth doing well. This is the creed of each of our specialists, faithfully reflected in the attitudes of their assistants, and quickly caught by the campers.

Enrollment is limited and selective.

Mrs. Adolf Nelson, EV 5-4982, will be happy to tell you about Moss Lake.
